

Las Vegas

Written by Jeff Berkley & Calman Hart

She put the loss in Las Vegas
And the used in used-to-be
She put the broke in broken-hearted
And the poor in poor old me

She was a dancer
In a Las Vegas show
She moved through me like cancer
Subtle and slow

I loved her completely
She took all I had
And when I was empty
She never looked back

She put the loss in Las Vegas
And the used in used-to-be
She put the broke in broken-hearted
And the poor in poor old me
